

Citi participates in Community Build Day with DuPage Habitat for Humanity

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Citigroup Inc. (NYSE: C) August 3, 2007 - Citi and DuPage Habitat for Humanity are proud to announce their participation in the sixth annual financial services industry's Community Build Day.

On Saturday, April 4, 2007 a total of 76 companies of The Financial Services Roundtable have committed to building a home in more than 202 cities across the United States, as well as participate in other activities aimed at bettering the communities, which our companies serve. National partners for the 2007 Community Build Day include Habitat for Humanity, Citi, NeighborWorks® America, Rebuilding Together, America's Promise, USA Freedom Corps, and the Points of Light Foundation.

"Community Build Day demonstrates to the public how the financial services industry works 365 days a year to improve the communities which they serve," said Steve Bartlett, President and CEO of The Financial Services Roundtable. "The member companies of the Roundtable are competitors in the marketplace, but this day shows our cooperation in the community."

"Citi is proud to work with Habitat for Humanity to help provide simple, decent housing in partnership with families in need," said Beth Satter, Senior Vice President of Citi Cards. "Together, we continue our mission to make communities better because we are there."

This year, Citi is building in seven cities as part of Financial Services Roundtable Community Build Day-Albuquerque, NM; Baltimore, MD; Chicago, IL; Delaware; Des Moines, IA; Orange County, CA and Sioux Falls, SD. Locally, Citi employees are partnering with DuPage Habitat for Humanity to renovate a Glen Ellyn home on Pearl Ave.

This year marks the sixth annual Community Build Day. Richard Davis, president and CEO of U.S. Bancorp, is the 2007 Community Build Day Chairman.
